For the attention of Richard Soan

Dear Richard,

You will recall that when living in Uckfield I was the Chair of the Buildings Committee of St. Philip Neri Church. In that capacity you were instructed to reroof the Church and these works were undertaken in a highly professional manner.

Subsequently we moved, for family reasons, to Eastbourne and I was subsequently asked to Chair a new Committee responsible for the Buildings and maintenance of the three Catholic Churches including other ancillary properties. I reluctantly accepted and was provided with a priced Bill of Quantities prepared by a local large contractor for extensive roofing works to St. Gregory's Church.

I did not accept either the scheme, methodology or pricing and duly approached yourselves and Icopal. A highly professional alternative together with a more competitive price was submitted. This was subsequently accepted by the Committee and the appropriate authorities and instructions to proceed were given.

The works proceeded in accord with the estimated time frame and there were no issues at all either over workmanship, materials employed or health and safety.

The works were completed within the estimate submitted and in accord with the time frame. As Chair I was kept fully apprised at all times of any day to day issues and furthermore the local parishioners were also highly complimentary as to the courtesy shown to them at all times by the site personnel.

This latest contract was awarded not only because of your performance on the Uckfield Church but also because my experience with your company was highly satisfactory.

This has now been mirrored in this latest Contract.

Wishing you continuing success,

Regards,
